

Triumph Jets and Tehya Travel Launch Integrated Private Aviation and Luxury Travel Planning for Complex Global Journeys

Sister companies formalize one advisory relationship for private aviation, accommodations, yachts, ground logistics, and experiences.

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES,

September 11, 2026 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Triumph Jets, the private jet charter brokerage with offices in Chicago and Miami, and Tehya Travel, the Chicago-based luxury travel advisory, today announced integrated journey planning: a single advisory relationship through which clients can coordinate private aviation, hotels and villas, yacht charter, ground transportation, and experiences for complex global travel.

The two companies share a founder in Arturo Gomez, common hospitality roots, and a service philosophy built on judgment, discretion, and disciplined execution. Under the integrated model, a client's request can enter through either company. From there, one internal team manages the full journey, presenting the client with complete information and a single point of coordination. The client never manages communication between two companies; the coordination happens entirely behind the scenes.

The model formalizes how the teams already work. Before Tehya Travel carried its own name, the companies' first combined engagement was a California wine country trip: private accommodations in Sonoma, dining reservations, and winery visits, planned alongside the client's travel. Today the combined capability spans the globe, from a two-week Italian journey involving private aviation, city hotels, a Tuscan villa, drivers, guides, and yacht time on the coast, to a long-weekend escape that simply needs to run perfectly.

"Clients don't experience their trip as an aviation piece and a travel piece. It's one experience," said Gomez. "Every itinerary has logistics, flights, ground transportation, timing. Our job is to remove the friction from all of it, so the client's attention goes where it belongs: their family, their friends, and the place they came to enjoy."

Triumph Jets brings its formalized aircraft and operator vetting standards and more than a decade in the global charter market. Tehya Travel brings preferred rates, amenities, and recognition at leading hotels and resorts worldwide through its affiliation with Fora Travel, along with hands-on planning across Europe, the Caribbean, Mexico, Latin America, and beyond. Yacht charter is arranged globally through established partner relationships. Integrated journey planning is available immediately through either company.
