

Golf Envy to Open New Indoor Golf Club in Farragut, Tennessee

Grand opening set for Sept. 12 brings GOLFZON TwoVision NX simulator technology and moving floorplate bays to Farragut

FARRAGUT, TN, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Golf Envy, a 24-hour, membership-based indoor golf simulator franchise, will open its Farragut club on September 12 at 12756 Kingston Pike #102, Farragut, TN 37934. The club is owned and operated by local franchisee Christian Miller.

technology, including a moving floorplate that physically recreates real course terrain, from uphill and downhill lies to sidehill breaks. Members play world-renowned courses on demand, including Pebble Beach Golf Links, St. Andrews Links and Harbour Town Golf Links, track swing data including spin, carry, distance and dispersion on every shot, and access the club 24 hours a day rather than on a course's set hours.

The Farragut club is Golf Envy's 11th location, part of a franchise network expanding across the U.S. with several additional clubs opening soon.

The grand opening runs from 3 to 6 p.m. on Sept. 12 and will give the community its first look inside the club, with simulator demonstrations, a walkthrough of the Golf Envy Bays, and longest-drive and closest-to-pin contests running throughout the event on the simulator bays.

“I grew up playing this game on real courses, chasing daylight and good weather. Farragut deserved a place where that's not a factor anymore. You show up whenever you have an hour, and the course is exactly as good as it was the day before,” said Christian Miller, owner of Golf Envy Farragut.

Golf Envy Farragut is currently welcoming Founding Members, with presale pricing and perks available only before doors open on Sept. 12. More information is available at farragut.golfenvy.com.
