Twenty-five years ago today, on a Tuesday morning that began like any other, the nation changed in a matter of hours. FEDCON joins communities across the country in paying tribute to the nearly 3,000 individuals who perished at the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and aboard Flight 93. The firm recognizes the sacrifices made by firefighters, police officers, emergency medical personnel, and ordinary citizens who ran toward danger to save others.

Today, FEDCON's team will pause together for a moment of silence. The firm encourages partners, clients, and community members to mark the day through acts of service, continuing the legacy of unity that defined the national response to the tragedy.

That legacy is not distant from FEDCON's daily work. Alongside government agencies and the federal supply chain, the firm sees the dedication of the people who protect and serve the nation, work that shapes the mission of the businesses supporting the country's infrastructure, defense, and emergency response capabilities.

FEDCON remains committed to empowering the businesses that build and sustain that framework.

FEDCON is a Tampa, Florida-based consulting firm dedicated to helping businesses navigate federal contracting. Providing end-to-end support, from SAM.gov registrations and specialized certifications to proposal management and GSA Schedule acquisition, FEDCON bridges the gap between private enterprise and government opportunity. Through comprehensive consulting, the firm empowers businesses across industries to successfully bid on and win federal, state, and local contracts.
