

Crocodile Rocks Offers Free Admission to First Responders, Doctors and Nurses for 25th Anniversary of September 11

MYRTLE BEACH, SC, UNITED STATES, September 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Crocodile Rocks, the dueling piano venue at Broadway at the Beach, will offer free admission to firefighters, police officers, first responders, doctors and nurses from Friday, September 11 through Sunday, September 13, 2026, marking the 25th anniversary of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks. Doors open at 7 PM each night.

On Friday, September 11 at 8:46 PM, the venue will stop its performance, raise the house lights and hold a moment of silence for those who were lost and for the emergency personnel who responded that morning.

"September 11 is a day that none of us should ever forget," said Mark Kaufman, Co-Owner of Crocodile Rocks. "We wanted to do something meaningful to say thank you to the firefighters, police officers, first responders, doctors and nurses who put others before themselves every day. It is our privilege to welcome them to Crocodile Rocks as our guests."

"Twenty-five years later, we still remember the courage, sacrifice and unity that Americans showed in the aftermath of September 11," said Matt Rublowitz, General Manager of Crocodile Rocks. "This is our small way of honoring the heroes we lost and thanking the people who continue that tradition of service today. We hope our community will join us in remembering them."

Eligible guests should present a valid professional or service identification at the door. Complimentary admission extends to the cardholder and one guest.

Crocodile Rocks encourages members of the Myrtle Beach community to take time on September 11 to remember those who were lost, recognize those who answered the call that morning and thank the men and women who continue to serve on the front lines.
