NATASHA OWENS' 'WE MISS YOU, CHARLIE' CLIMBS TO #3 ON iTUNES POP CHART & #13 ALL GENRES

Powerful Charlie Kirk tribute featuring Benjy Gaither continues to gain momentum despite what her team describes as significant tech suppression

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 10, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Powerful Charlie Kirk tribute featuring Benjy Gaither continues to gain momentum despite what her team describes as significant social-media and technology-platform restrictions, with proceeds benefiting Turning Point USA

On the anniversary of Charlie Kirk's assassination, award-winning singer-songwriter Natasha Owens is honoring his life and legacy with "We Miss You, Charlie," featuring Benjy Gaither, as the tribute continues its rapid climb on the charts. Released September 4 through Real America's Music, the single has climbed to #3 on the iTunes Pop Songs Chart and #13 on the iTunes All Genres Songs Chart, while the official music video has now surpassed 250,000 views.

CHART UPDATE: Since its release, "We Miss You, Charlie" has climbed to #3 on the iTunes Pop Songs Chart and #13 on the iTunes All Genres Songs Chart, placing Natasha Owens alongside some of the biggest names in music.

The chart performance is particularly notable given what Owens and her team describe as significant restrictions and suppression across major technology and social-media platforms, limiting many of the traditional promotional avenues available to mainstream releases. Despite those obstacles, the independently driven campaign has continued to gain traction through direct audience support, alternative media and word of mouth.
Arriving just days before the first anniversary of Charlie Kirk's loss, "We Miss You, Charlie" is a heartfelt musical tribute honoring Charlie's life, his voice, his family, the millions of people he reached and the legacy he left behind.
Proceeds from the song will benefit Turning Point USA to help continue Charlie's legacy and the work he dedicated his life to building.

Rather than focusing solely on the tragedy of his death, "We Miss You, Charlie" looks forward - toward the people Charlie inspired, the young Americans whose voices he helped awaken, and a generation now challenged to carry that legacy forward.
The accompanying official music video brings that message to life through powerful images of remembrance, Charlie's connection with young people and his family, and the extraordinary impact he had on people across the country.
"This isn't just about looking back and mourning someone we lost. It's about asking what we do with what Charlie left us. His voice inspired an entire generation to stand up for what they believe. Now that generation has a responsibility to carry that torch forward." - Natasha Owens

LONGTIME MANAGEMENT & CREATIVE TEAM
Behind the release is Owens' longtime manager and creative collaborator Stefano DiBenedetto, a Long Island, New York music-industry veteran and founder of The Hang Productions. DiBenedetto has worked alongside Owens for years, helping guide her career, creative direction, live performances and independent release strategy.
With decades of experience in the music and entertainment industry, DiBenedetto has worked with legendary and groundbreaking artists including Billy Joel, Lou Reed, Joan Jett, The Stray Cats, Taylor Dayne, LINKIN PARK, Alexa Ray Joel and Skylar Grey, among many others. His career has spanned artist development, management, touring, recording and live production.

For “We Miss You, Charlie,” DiBenedetto has played an integral role in the single’s launch and promotional campaign and served as a creative director on the official music video alongside Lucas Baiano and Natasha Owens.
