EINPresswire.com/ -- Gulf Coast Pool Guys expands beyond fiberglass pool installation with custom gunite pools and premium Baby Guard pool fencing, giving Gulf Coast homeowners more options for designing, building and protecting their backyard spaces.

Gulf Coast Pool Guys is expanding its pool and outdoor living services with the addition of custom gunite swimming pools and premium Baby Guard pool fencing. Already known for fiberglass pool design and installation throughout Southern Alabama and the Florida Panhandle, the company can now serve a wider range of homeowners looking for customized pool construction and additional safety solutions.

The expansion gives customers greater flexibility when choosing an inground swimming pool. Homeowners can continue to select from Gulf Coast Pool Guys' fiberglass pool options or explore the increased customization available with gunite construction. The addition of Baby Guard fencing also provides families with an option specifically designed to create a protective barrier around pools and other outdoor areas.

Together, the new services further Gulf Coast Pool Guys' goal of providing comprehensive backyard solutions, from the initial pool design and installation to patios, decking, landscaping, fencing, lighting, water features, and other finishing touches.

More Pool Options for Gulf Coast Homeowners

Fiberglass pools remain an important part of Gulf Coast Pool Guys' services. The company offers fiberglass pool design and installation with options including integrated seating, tanning ledges, lighting, and water features.

With the expansion into custom gunite pools, homeowners now have another option when planning a new backyard. Gunite construction provides greater flexibility in pool dimensions, shape, depth, and overall design, making it well suited for customers with a specific vision or properties that call for a more customized layout.

Rather than approaching every backyard with the same solution, the expanded services allow Gulf Coast Pool Guys to help homeowners consider their property, design preferences, and plans for the space when deciding which type of pool best fits the project.

The company can also complete the area surrounding the pool with patios and decking, landscaping, traditional fencing, lighting, and water features, creating a more cohesive outdoor living space.

Premium Baby Guard Pool Fencing Adds an Important Safety Option

Along with its new gunite pool services, Gulf Coast Pool Guys is expanding access to Baby Guard pool fencing for homeowners throughout the Gulf Coast.

Gulf Coast Pool Guys is a certified Baby Guard installer and provides custom installation of the removable mesh safety fencing. The system is designed to establish a barrier between young children and swimming pools while remaining removable when needed. Its transparent mesh design also helps preserve visibility throughout the outdoor space.

Baby Guard fencing can be customized to the layout of a pool, patio, or yard and is available to homeowners whether Gulf Coast Pool Guys installed the original swimming pool or not. In addition to pools, the fencing can be used to help restrict access to patios, play areas, steps, driveways, and other parts of a property.

The addition complements the company's existing pool fencing services, which include aluminum, vinyl, and wood options.

Creating Complete Backyards from Pool Design to Finishing Touches

The latest expansion reflects Gulf Coast Pool Guys' broader approach to pool construction. Rather than focusing solely on installing a swimming pool, the company offers services that can address the entire backyard.

A new pool project can incorporate decking or patios, landscaping, fencing, lighting, fountains, waterfalls, and other water features. Gulf Coast Pool Guys also offers ponds, metal buildings, and additional construction services.

That approach gives homeowners the option to coordinate multiple parts of a backyard transformation through one local company while creating a finished space designed around how their family plans to use it.

Whether a homeowner prefers the established designs and streamlined installation associated with fiberglass or the customization possible with gunite, Gulf Coast Pool Guys can now offer more choices from the beginning of the project.

Expanding Pool Services Across the Gulf Coast

Based in Orange Beach, Alabama, Gulf Coast Pool Guys serves homeowners throughout coastal Alabama and Northwest Florida, including Orange Beach, Gulf Shores, Foley, Fairhope, Robertsedale, Perdido Key, Pensacola, and neighboring Gulf Coast communities.

The expansion into gunite pools and premium Baby Guard fencing allows the company to serve homeowners at different stages of pool ownership, from families beginning the design of a completely new backyard to those looking to improve the safety or functionality of an existing pool area.

As Gulf Coast Pool Guys continues to grow, its focus remains on providing homeowners with practical options for creating outdoor spaces suited to the Gulf Coast lifestyle.

About Gulf Coast Pool Guys
