Matrix Design Receives Gold A' Design Award in Interior Space and Exhibition Design for Mansion of Value

Mansion of Value

COMO, CO, ITALY, September 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award has announced Mansion of Value by Matrix Design as a Gold A' Design Award winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category. This recognition celebrates a 4000 square meter private clubhouse that reinterprets classical spatial aesthetics through a contemporary lens. The A' Design Award is one of the world's highly respected and well-recognized accolades in the field of interior design, evaluating entries through a rigorous, blind peer-review process conducted by an expert jury panel. The honor positions Mansion of Value as an exemplary work that meets demanding standards of innovation, functionality, and cultural relevance. The recognition reflects the skill and dedication invested in the project by Matrix Design.

The award holds meaning that extends beyond the recipient, offering value to the broader interior design industry and to clients seeking refined social environments. Mansion of Value responds to contemporary demand for spaces that balance cultural depth with modern sophistication, addressing the needs of elite communities looking for identity and heritage in their surroundings. Research conducted for the project, combining typological study of luxury hospitality spaces, material experiments, and user interviews, confirmed that classical elements foster stronger user identification and elevate perceived spatial value. By aligning artistic aspiration with regulatory and functional requirements, the design advances established practices within the industry. Stakeholders benefit from a clear demonstration of how heritage and innovation can coexist in high-end interiors.

Drawing from the legacy and spatial grandeur of the New York Waldorf Astoria Hotel, Mansion of Value merges Art Deco geometry, handcrafted detailing, and immersive lighting to create a ceremonial atmosphere. Monumental elements, including a rose window ceiling and bespoke jade stone installations, generate spatial depth and ritualistic beauty. The realization involved CNC precision cutting, large-format jade stone sourcing, laser alignment of floor and ceiling, and hand-forged mother of pearl inlays. GRC and metal mesh structures, natural stone, and crystal were combined with eco-certified furniture materials and flame-retardant finishes. Symmetrical layouts and curated artworks complete a multidimensional experience of artistry, status, and refined lifestyle.

The Gold A' Design Award recognition may inform future projects undertaken by Matrix Design, reinforcing the studio's commitment to integrating cultural narrative with technical precision. The honor serves as encouragement for the team to continue exploring the intersection of classical proportion and contemporary minimalism. As the studio addresses cross-disciplinary challenges in upcoming work, this acknowledgment supports ongoing innovation in material sourcing, fabrication, and spatial storytelling.
