Global financial visionary and technology leader Marco Antonio Soriano, CEO of Arius Technology Europe and Chairman of The Soriano Group, proudly announces his private VIP attendance at the highly anticipated inauguration of the "AQVA" Exhibition. The landmark cultural event, officially presided over by His Holiness Pope Leo XIV, will take place this month at the prestigious Vatican Apostolic Library (Biblioteca Apostolica Vaticana).

"A country without Art is a nation without culture" says Soriano

Soriano's exclusive invitation to this monumental unveiling underscores the growing, critical intersection between cutting-edge technology, global finance, and the preservation of global human heritage. The "AQVA" exhibition represents a monumental showcase of historical, cultural, and spiritual artifacts, marking a brilliant new chapter for the Apostolic Library under the visionary guidance of Pope Leo XIV.

Arius Technology, world-renowned for its pioneering advancements in 3D art digitization and cultural heritage preservation, shares a profound alignment with the Vatican's ongoing mission to protect and immortalize the world's most priceless historical artifacts. Through his leadership at both Arius Technology Europe and the multi-generational global family office, The Soriano Group, Marco Antonio Soriano continues to champion bold investments that bridge the gap between ancient heritage and future-forward innovation.

"It is an absolute privilege and a profound honor to be invited to the Vatican Apostolic Library for the inauguration of the 'AQVA' exhibition by His Holiness Pope Leo XIV," said Marco Antonio Soriano. "At Arius Technology and The Soriano Group, we firmly believe that the future is built by protecting our past. The Vatican Apostolic Library is the ultimate custodian of human knowledge, art, and faith. To witness this historic unveiling firsthand is a testament to the enduring power of culture, and it reinforces our commitment to utilizing state-of-the-art technology to safeguard global heritage for generations to come."

"The exhibitions foster dialogue between contemporary art and the Library's centuries-old heritage. The Pope has emphasized fidelity to the past and fidelity to the future. The present is now!"

Water is a sacred gift that sustains life. We see a sign of God's generosity in water. It quenches our thirst and makes the earth fertile. In Baptism, it becomes a symbol of his renewing grace. Taking care of water is also a form of safeguarding life and of recognizing that this resource belongs to everyone, without distinction.

In his prayer intention for September, Pope Leo invites us to pray that water be protected so that we might learn to appreciate it with gratitude, justice, and moderation, and so that we might know how to defend the right of every brother and sister to have equal access to drinkable water.

You are not alone. By praying, you join the millions of people who belong to the Pope's Worldwide Prayer Network who, from every corner of the world, are praying for humanity's challenges and the Church's mission.

Soriano aims at preserving Art for All to enjoy

Polo at Rome

It quenches thirst, nourishes the earth, and heals wounds.

We thank You,
because it is also a symbol of your grace and love
that renews us through Baptism.
Today we ask You to teach us to safeguard it with gratitude, justice, and responsibility.

Forgive us for turning it into a commodity,
forgetting that it is a universal gift,
a right without borders, meant for all your children.
We see with pain so many brothers and sisters
who lack clean water,
who walk for miles to find it,
who become ill due to its scarcity.

May your Spirit make us pilgrims of the essential,
able to live with simplicity,
denouncing waste and pollution,
defending the right of every brother and sister
to drink without fear and without inequality.

May our care for water
be a sign of love for the Creator
and a commitment to the lives of the poor,
educating new generations to value
and protect the Earth's resources.

Amen.
