New geopolitical thriller arrives now as Dan Reilly faces a conspiracy threatening the U.S. election and global stability

Red Hotel Series of Thrillers

LAGUNA HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Laguna Hills Publishing today announced the worldwide release of RED ALERT, fifth international thriller in the acclaimed Red Hotel Series by authors Ed Fuller and Gary Grossman. The new novel will be available September 15, 2026, in print, digital, and audio formats.

In RED ALERT, when the Chinese mission is blown up in New York, only blocks away from the United Nations, eyes across the world naturally focus on Taiwan as the perpetrator. As the deadline approaches to China's land, sea, and air reprisal against Taiwan, and the inevitable U.S. response, a money trail begins to point to another culprit with a far greater goal — North Korea. The rogue government has nuclear missiles close to operational level deep in the Colombia jungle, all aimed at America's largest cities.

One man stands in the way of this new Cuban Missile Crisis from exploding. Anti-terrorist expert Dan Reilly steps away from running Kensington International Hotels' global operations to become a State Department operative and a needed voice in the White House. Reilly works both sides of the Pacific with a trusted Chinese spy to prevent the political house of cards from tumbling to the ground.

Clocks tick across the world's time zones as Reilly races to put the financial pieces together, rescues stranded Americans in the middle of an attack, and smuggles a U.S. senator away from the danger zone – all while the ultimate puppet master, the president of Russia, pulls the strings in what is his deadly play.

"RED ALERT takes the kind of geopolitical tensions we see in the headlines and asks what could happen if those tensions were manipulated from multiple directions at once," said Ed Fuller. "The result is a story where the line between political maneuvering and global catastrophe becomes increasingly difficult to see."

Grossman added, "The challenge with a politically charged thriller is creating a story that feels both extraordinary and completely possible. RED ALERT puts Dan Reilly in the middle of a rapidly changing international crisis where every decision has consequences."

A Thriller Series Rooted in Reality

The Red Hotel Series blends real-world experience with high-stakes storytelling, exploring the intersection of international business, espionage, politics, and global conflict. The series follows Dan Reilly, a former Army intelligence officer turned international hotel executive who repeatedly finds himself drawn into crises that extend far beyond the world of business.

Fuller brings more than four decades of international hospitality experience with Marriott International, along with his military service as a U.S. Army veteran of Vietnam. Grossman is an Emmy Award-winning television producer and former journalist whose career has included writing thrillers and producing television programming.

Together, the authors have created a series known for its global scope, timely storylines, and plausible scenarios.

Red Alert -- The 5th Thriller of the Red Hotel Series

The Five Books of the Red Hotel Series

The first four Red Hotel Series novels—RED HOTEL, RED DECEPTION, RED CHAOS, and RED

ULTIMATUM—were relaunched in new editions earlier this year with redesigned covers by Christine Sullivan. The new editions established a cohesive visual identity for the series ahead of the release of RED ALERT.
In RED ALERT, Reilly must read the global power struggle before the next move becomes irreversible. The story races across continents as deception becomes a weapon, alliances become targets, and the fate of the world hangs in the balance.

RED ALERT will be available worldwide beginning September 15, 2026, in print, digital, and audio formats.
