

Brand Savage Redefines Professional Branding and Design With Agency-Level Quality at Startup-Friendly Prices

Brand Savage brings human-created, agency-quality design, fast turnaround and affordable pricing to entrepreneurs and businesses worldwide.

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, September 13, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Brand Savage Redefines Professional Branding With Agency-Level Quality at Startup-Friendly Prices

Brand Savage is challenging the traditional branding industry with a new approach designed to make premium, human-created branding and design more accessible to entrepreneurs, startups, small businesses, influencers and established companies.

Rather than forcing businesses to choose between expensive creative agencies, freelancers or generic AI-generated designs, Brand Savage combines professional human designers, fast turnaround times and straightforward pricing. The company offers more than 40 branding and creative services, with Branding Credit Packages starting at just $99 USD.

“Professional branding shouldn't be a luxury reserved for big corporations,” said Brand Savage Founder & CEO Bob Reina. “Every entrepreneur deserves access to exceptional design that builds credibility, creates trust, and helps their business stand out.”

Brand Savage provides services ranging from custom logos and complete brand identity systems to social media graphics, business essentials, apparel, packaging, marketing materials, vehicle wraps, storefront signage, trade show displays and more. Most projects are delivered in approximately 72 hours after approval of the creative brief and include unlimited revisions, digital and print-ready files, responsive human support and full copyright ownership.

Bob and Kristie Reina, Founders of Brand Savage

The company was founded to address what Bob and Kristie Reina saw as a growing gap in the branding marketplace. Traditional agencies can charge thousands, or even tens of thousands, of dollars for branding projects, while lower-cost alternatives may sacrifice originality, quality or personalized creative direction. Brand Savage's goal is to deliver professional design without the traditional agency price structure or lengthy timelines.

Brand Savage operates through a simple credit-based system in which one branding credit equals $1 USD. Customers purchase a credit package and use those credits toward the individual branding and design services they need. Unused credits never expire, and larger packages can include bonus branding credits.

Early customers are already reporting strong results.

“Brand Savage completely elevated the way our company looks and feels,” said David Thornton, Owner of Illuminate Landscape Lighting. “Everything is polished, professional, and consistent.”

Norm Hardy, CEO of CarSolve, said Brand Savage transformed his company's presentation in less than 72 hours, while Jimmy Ezzell, Owner of TripValet, praised the company's quality, creativity and turnaround.

Brand Savage officially launches September 16, 2026, bringing its professional branding platform and business opportunity to the global marketplace.

Every Brand Savage project is created by real designers rather than templates, recycled artwork or AI-generated designs. The company's focus is straightforward: premium branding, exceptional speed, transparent pricing and strong value for businesses looking to stand out in an increasingly competitive marketplace.
