

Stonehill Named Among Best Change Management Consulting Services in the United States

Digital Reference recognizes Stonehill for its human-centered approach to innovation, customer experience and organizational transformation

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, September 13, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stonehill, a strategy and innovation consultancy, has been named to Digital Reference's list of the Best Change Management Consulting Services in the USA.

Digital Reference developed the list through research and evaluation of firms and professionals helping organizations successfully navigate transformation. Stonehill was recognized for using journey mapping, innovation sprints and design thinking to engage stakeholders and align employee and customer experiences with broader transformation goals.

"Successful transformation requires more than a well-designed strategy - it requires the engagement and commitment of the people responsible for bringing that strategy to life," said Doug Pace, President and CEO of Stonehill. "This recognition reflects our ability to connect strategy, process, technology and organizational change so clients can move from ideas to measurable results."

Stonehill helps organizations manage complex change associated with growth, mergers and acquisitions, organizational design, technology implementation and operational transformation.

Its approach combines research, human-centered design, process engineering, analytics and structured implementation management to create solutions that are both practical and sustainable.

The firm works with Fortune 500 companies, private equity firms, middle-market businesses and government organizations across a range of industries. Stonehill's change-management capabilities are integrated throughout its services, including strategy, organizational design, customer experience, post-merger integration, process improvement, and AI and automation.

Digital Reference highlighted Stonehill's ability to:

- Use journey mapping and innovation sprints to build stakeholder engagement
- Align customer and employee experiences during transformation
- Apply its approach across prominent organizations and diverse industries

"We believe change management should be embedded into transformation from the beginning - not added after the major decisions have already been made," Pace added. "By involving stakeholders in the design process and establishing clear ownership, communication and performance measures, we help organizations create meaningful change that lasts."
