E&E Exhibit Solutions Celebrates 30 Years of Delivering Brands to the Show Floor

E&E Exhibit Solutions Introduces Next Generation of Experiential Exhibit Services

TEMPE, AZ, UNITED STATES, September 14, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tempe, Ariz. — E&E Exhibit Solutions, a full-service provider of trade show exhibits, rentals, graphics, technology, logistics and event services, is celebrating 30 years in business with a renewed focus on the future of experiential marketing and the evolving role of the trade show exhibit.

Founded in 1995, E&E has spent three decades helping companies bring their brands to life in highly competitive event environments. What began as an exhibit company has evolved into a comprehensive exhibit and event partner, providing clients with design, fabrication, graphics, LED display walls and digital solutions, purchase and rental exhibits, logistics, installation and dismantle, warehousing and on-site support.

Now, as brands increasingly seek more engaging ways to attract, educate and connect with audiences, E&E is expanding its focus on experiential exhibit solutions that combine physical environments with technology, interactive elements and immersive brand experiences.

“The trade show industry has changed dramatically since we started in 1995,” said Daniel Chaddock, President and CEO of E&E Exhibit Solutions. “But one thing hasn't changed: when the show doors open, our clients need to be ready. We've built our company around the responsibility of providing outstanding trade show services. The next chapter is about taking everything we've learned about design, production and execution and combining it with the technologies and experiences that today's audiences expect.

Customers and prospects often ask “how do I make my product more engaging at a trade show?” said Chaddock. “We start with an interactive design process, integrating every detail-from theme and layout to lighting and interactivity. We strive to design and deliver a show-stopping solution that showcases your brand’s strengths and drives meaningful interactions.”

From Exhibit House to Experiential Partner

Over the past 30 years, E&E has continually expanded its capabilities in response to changes in the exhibit and events marketplace. The company's services now extend well beyond traditional exhibit construction. E&E provides custom and modular exhibits, portable displays, custom rentals, large-format graphics, SEG and backlit systems, LED video displays, event production, logistics, installation and dismantle, warehousing and asset management.

“Our clients don't think about their marketing experience in separate pieces,” said Cynthia Chaddock, CFO and Director of Marketing. “They think about the brand, the audience, the message and the experience they want people to have. Our job is to bring all of those elements together and make sure the experience works—from the first design concept to the moment the show closes. Thirty years gives you perspective,” said Chaddock. “We've seen recessions, industry changes, technology changes and a global pandemic that temporarily shut down the trade show industry. Every time, we've adapted. We're proud of what we've built, but we're even more excited about what's next.”
