

Leving Matrimonial Law Seminar: The Complexity of the 604 Child Custody Evaluation

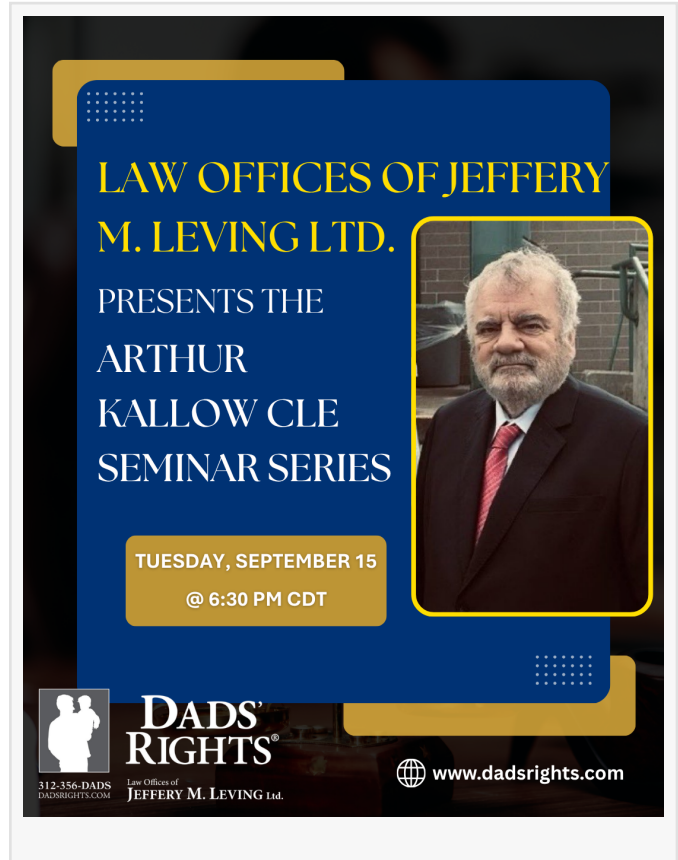

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The nationally acclaimed Law Offices of Jeffery M. Leving, Ltd. will host the next presentation of the Arthur S. Kallow Continuing Legal Education (CLE) Seminar Series on September 15th at 6:30 p.m. CDT at 225 W. Wacker Drive in Chicago.

The presentation will address one of the most emotionally challenging and outcome-determinative processes parents can face in highly contested family-law cases: a court-ordered 604 child custody evaluation. These evaluations can profoundly affect a child's future and a parent's relationship with that child.

Attendees will examine the complexity of 604 child custody evaluations in family-law matters, including the role of court-appointed professionals, the purpose and scope of an evaluation, and the factors that may influence recommendations concerning the allocation of parental responsibilities, parenting time, and the child's best interests. The program will underscore the importance of effectively preparing clients, responding to concerns, reviewing recommendations, and advocating for the child's welfare at every stage of the process.

The seminar will explore the practical and critical issues attorneys and other professionals may encounter before, during, and after a 604 child custody evaluation. Topics will include preparing clients for evaluator interviews, addressing allegations that may affect parenting-time or decision-making recommendations, assessing relevant evidence and documentation, and identifying potential concerns in a mental health evaluator's findings or report.

"When a parent is facing the possibility of losing their children forever, the stakes couldn't be higher," said attorney Jeffery M. Leving, founder and president of the law firm who will facilitate
