Focusing on Cross-Border Financial Services, CBiBank Participates in the 26th CIFIT

NY, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From September 8 to 11, the 26th China International Fair for Investment and Trade (CIFIT) was held at the Xiamen International Expo Center. Under the theme “Expanding Two-Way Investment, Promoting Global Development,” this year’s CIFIT featured three major sections: “Invest in China,” “China Investment,” and “International Investment.” The expanded financial exhibition area brought together financial institutions and businesses from around the world, creating opportunities for industry exchange and cooperation.

As an important part of this year’s financial exhibition area, the CIPS Zone made its debut at CIFIT. Organized by Cross-border Interbank Payment System Co., Ltd. (CIPS Co., Ltd.), the zone brought together Chinese and international banks and businesses from multiple markets for enterprise-bank cooperation and industry exchange, providing a dedicated platform for discussions on cross-border payments and cross-border RMB settlement.

CBiBank participated in the CIPS Zone, where its team engaged with financial institutions, businesses and industry partners from different markets.

As an international bank in Puerto Rico, U.S., CBiBank has long focused on the financial service needs of businesses operating globally. The bank continues to provide financial services across areas including cross-border collections and payments, global fund flows and diversified financial solutions, supporting businesses in their international operations.

Focusing on the Needs of Global Businesses

During the exhibition, visitors and industry partners at the CBiBank booth learned more about the bank's financial services for global markets and exchanged insights on practical needs related to cross-border collections and payments, fund management and the movement of funds across different markets.

As businesses continue to expand internationally, their market footprints are becoming increasingly diverse. Their cross-border financial needs are also evolving from basic payment and collection services toward more comprehensive solutions for fund management and global operations.

Through its participation in CIFIT and the CIPS Zone, CBiBank connected with financial institutions and businesses from different markets, gaining deeper insights into evolving market needs and exchanging views on the development of cross-border financial services.

Connecting Global Markets Through Financial Services

The continued growth of cross-border trade and investment has accelerated the international expansion of businesses. As an important financial infrastructure connecting different markets, cross-border payment and settlement services are attracting increasing attention for their efficiency and accessibility.

The debut of the CIPS Zone at CIFIT provided a dedicated platform for financial institutions, businesses and industry partners to exchange views, while facilitating broader discussions on cross-border payments, RMB internationalization and international financial services.

For CBiBank, participation in CIFIT was not only an opportunity for industry exchange, but also an important step toward connecting with global financial and industry partners and gaining a deeper understanding of evolving market needs.

Looking ahead, CBiBank will continue to follow developments in global trade and investment and explore new possibilities in cross-border financial services to support the financial needs of businesses operating globally.
