1 of 1 Woodworker Showcases Custom Tables and Furniture at Statham Wood Gallery

STATHAM, GA, UNITED STATES, September 16, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- What began in 2017 with $1,000 and a basement workshop is now built around one clear goal: give every customer the ultimate experience — luxury appliances and custom woodworking that owner David Barrett designs and builds himself, under Dave's Appliance and Home in Statham and Martinez, with 1 of 1 Woodworker as part of the same visit.

David Barrett with the custom live-edge conference table he designed and built for Akins Ford in Winder, Georgia — the number one Ford dealer in the world.

Barrett started small — limited capital, hands-on work, earning trust one project at a time. Today, shoppers can walk through premium kitchen brands like Sub-Zero, Wolf, and Thermador, then work directly with him on custom woodworking he designs and builds himself so the kitchen in their head becomes the kitchen in their home. At the Statham showroom, customers can visit the wood gallery and choose the wood for their custom piece themselves — seeing grain, color, and character in person before Barrett designs and builds it. Pieces he has created have gone viral on Instagram, TikTok, Facebook, and YouTube, bringing nationwide attention to the same craft customers can experience in person at the Georgia showrooms.

"I started in my basement with a thousand dollars," said Barrett. "The goal was never just to sell a box. It's to turn someone's imagination into reality — the appliances, the wood I design and build myself, and an experience you can't get by shopping five different places. People come into our Statham gallery, pick the wood for their piece, and we build it. Seeing our work go viral on Instagram, TikTok, Facebook, and YouTube showed me people everywhere want that kind of one-of-a-kind result."

That ultimate customer experience is why Barrett calls Dave's Appliance and Home the best appliance and home store in Georgia: one locally owned team, two showrooms, a Statham wood gallery where customers choose their own material, custom woodworking designed and built by Barrett, and an audience that discovered the work on social — then can walk into the showroom and make it real.
