PLEASANT VALLEY, WV, UNITED STATES, September 16, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- TMC Technologies is pleased to announce the promotion of Dr. Eric Mohan to Vice President of the National Security Division, recognizing his outstanding leadership, devotion to client success, and notable contributions to the company's continued growth in the federal marketplace.

Mohan previously served as Executive Director at TMC Technologies, where he managed a diverse portfolio of federal programs, oversaw the company's contracts department, and led proposal pricing. In his new role, he will lead and expand TMC's National Security Division, driving strategic growth while ensuring the highest standards of performance, innovation, and customer satisfaction across the company's federal defense and civilian agency programs.

"Eric has continually demonstrated outstanding leadership, strategic vision, and a solid commitment to serving our customers," said Jeff Edgell, President and CEO of TMC Technologies. "Throughout his career with TMC, he has earned the trust of our clients and employees through his ability to deliver results, build strong partnerships, and deal with complex challenges. As Vice President of our National Security Division, Eric will play a key role in promoting our mission and supporting the high-stakes missions of the federal agencies and warfighters who rely on our expertise and solutions every day."

Mohan brings more than 15 years of experience in project and program management, business development, contracts management, and strategic analysis within the federal contracting industry. His current client portfolio includes programs supporting the U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Department of State, and U.S. Navy across Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, Maryland, Virginia, Indiana, and West Virginia.

In addition to leading major customer engagements, Mohan serves on TMC's Independent Research and Development (IR&D) Board. He is a member of the company's ISO Management Team, helping guide innovation, quality management, and operational quality throughout the organization.
