MADISON, FL, UNITED STATES,

EINPresswire.com/ -- Patrick Lange of Business Modification Group has successfully facilitated the sale of an established HVAC business in Broward County, Florida.

The company operates with a strong residential focus, generating approximately 90% of its business from residential customers and just 10% from commercial customers. The company does not perform new construction or refrigeration work, allowing it to maintain a focused service and replacement model.

They did an extraordinary job building a business that was attractive to buyers and successfully positioning it for a sale”

The HVAC company has seven full-time employees, providing the new owner with an experienced team and an established operational foundation.

“Tremendous kudos to this business owner and seller,” said Patrick Lange. “They did an extraordinary job building a business that was attractive to buyers and successfully positioning it for a sale. Building a strong organization with a dedicated team and established customer base takes a tremendous amount of work, and the seller should be proud of what they accomplished.”

As part of the transaction, the seller will remain with the business for a short-term transition period to assist the new owner and help ensure continuity for customers, employees, vendors, and other important business relationships.

The transaction is another example of the ongoing buyer interest in established HVAC businesses with recurring service needs, experienced employees, and a strong residential customer base.
