The Biohack Yourself Media siblings shared the stage with Dr. Daniel Pompa and entrepreneur Amir Tyson at Dr. Fab Mancini's Fort Lauderdale gathering.

MIAMI BEACH, FL, UNITED STATES, September 16, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Love Lolli, 10, and her younger brother Legend Lolli, 8, took the stage this past Saturday at The Fab Life Experience, a four-day private gathering of physicians, healthcare CEOs and wellness entrepreneurs hosted by Dr. Fab Mancini at the Four Seasons Resort and Residences Fort Lauderdale, closing their appearance to a standing ovation. The siblings, best known as the young co-hosts of the documentary "Biohack Yourself," streaming on Amazon Prime, addressed a room that also heard from cellular healing expert Dr. Daniel Pompa and entrepreneur Amir Tyson, son of former heavyweight champion Mike Tyson, among more than 40 speakers gathered for the event. Their parents, Biohack Yourself Media founders Anthony and TereZa Lolli, were also on hand for the weekend.

On stage, Love warned the room about blue light and near-constant screen exposure damaging children's vision and, by extension, their brains. "Strong vision is power, so protect your eyes and protect your brain," she told the audience. Legend followed with a direct appeal to the doctors, scientists and parents in the room to build real health education for kids and treat his generation as a priority, closing with, "We're not going to be the generation who got sick and gave up. We're going to be the generation who got sick and fought back." Both siblings used the moment to announce a new project: "WYNX," a documentary on eye health and screen exposure they will co-direct next year. The appearance marked the siblings' latest stop addressing an industry gathering this year, following a run of interviews for Biohack Yourself and an upcoming appearance at the Ultimate Wellness Conference in Miami Beach later this month.

"Watching the Lolli kids, Love and Legend, speak at Dr. Fab Mancini's Fab Life event in Fort Lauderdale last Saturday was incredible," said Mirit Moon, CEO of Moon Media Affairs. "As their family's publicist, I could not have been prouder, and neither could their parents, Anthony and TereZa Lolli. They both received a well-deserved standing ovation after speaking with confidence, intelligence, and heart far beyond their years. Dr. Fab created an exceptional event filled with powerful speakers, meaningful conversations, and truly inspiring energy."

Love, a health journalist and peer reviewer at Biohack Yourself Media, holds more than 75 professional credits spanning national commercials, off-Broadway theater, film and television. Legend, an actor and podcaster, appeared alongside his sister in "Fish Out of Water," directed by Francesca Scorsese, with additional credits including "The Super Lollis" and "Good Egg," and reaches more than 11,000 followers on Instagram. Together, the siblings have interviewed physicians and researchers including Dr. Steven Gundry, Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Ben Greenfield, Dr. Daniel Amen, Gary Brecka, Bryan Johnson and Dr. Gabrielle Lyon for Biohack Yourself. Both are also young real estate investors, a path their parents credit to the family's own book, "The Heart of the Deal."

The Fab Life Experience is a curated gathering founded by Dr. Fab Mancini, the chiropractor, bestselling author and former Parker University president known across the wellness industry as "Dr. Fab." Held September 10 to 13 at the Four Seasons Resort and Residences Fort Lauderdale, the event drew doctors, healthcare CEOs and investors from across the cash-based, regenerative and longevity care space for four days of keynotes, workshops and networking, with attendance deliberately limited to keep the conversation close. The stop adds to a busy year for Biohack Yourself Media, which brought "sHEALed," the women's health documentary produced by the family's studio, Lolli Brands Entertainment, to its world premiere during the Cannes Film Festival this past May and continues expanding the company's reach across documentary, magazine and digital platforms.
