PayToMe.co Reports 700% Web Traffic Growth as AI Commerce Platform Expands

Rising digital engagement follows PayToMe.co's expansion across payments, commerce, TravelTech, global shopping and smart storage.

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, September 21, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- PayToMe.co, a Silicon Valley AI and financial technology company, today announced increased digital momentum as it continues expanding its AI-powered payments and commerce platform.

PayToMe.co experienced a more than 700% year-over-year increase in estimated website traffic during the latest measured period, according to SEMrush data.

The increase follows the company's continued development across embedded payments, Text-to-Pay, digital invoicing, merchant services, KYC and KYB verification, financial workflow automation and global commerce technology.

"Growing digital engagement reinforces our vision for one intelligent platform connecting payments, commerce and real-world business operations," said Mike Ulker, founder and CEO of PayToMe.co. "We are helping businesses simplify how they accept payments, verify customers, automate workflows and connect digital transactions with physical commerce."

ONE CONNECTED AI COMMERCE PLATFORM

PayToMe.co combines financial technology, artificial intelligence, commerce and workflow automation in one connected platform.

Its technology includes:

Embedded payments
Text-to-Pay
Digital invoicing
Payment links
ACH and electronic-check capabilities
Online and in-person merchant services
KYC customer verification
KYB business verification
Bank-account verification
Accounts receivable and payable
Global money movement
AI-powered workflow automation
Enterprise APIs

These capabilities are designed to help businesses reduce manual processes and connect payments, customer onboarding, verification, invoicing and financial operations.

POWERING COMMERCE ACROSS THREE PLATFORMS

PayToMe.co extends its financial technology into real consumer and business transactions through three acquired platforms:

LuggageToShip.com provides AI-powered TravelTech for booking and managing the delivery of luggage, boxes, packages and sports equipment.

ShipToBox.com connects U.S. shopping, one-checkout purchasing, package consolidation and domestic or worldwide delivery.

ShipAndStorage.com provides smart digital storage through online pickup, storage management and scheduled future delivery.

PayToMe.co powers payment, invoicing, verification and transaction workflows across this broader ecosystem, connecting FinTech with TravelTech, shop-and-ship commerce and technology-enabled storage.

This operating model allows PayToMe.co to deploy its financial infrastructure within active commerce platforms rather than limiting its products to standalone payment processing.

TECHNOLOGY AND FINANCIAL NETWORK

The PayToMe.co ecosystem connects with approximately 12,000 financial institutions and 7,000 applications through integrated financial technology networks.

Its technology and service ecosystem includes AWS, Stripe, Plaid, Intuit QuickBooks, FedEx, UPS and DHL. PayToMe.co also participates in IBM Partner Plus and NVIDIA Inception and has received support and investment from Startupbootcamp and Hatcher+.

These relationships and integrations help PayToMe.co support businesses across payments, compliance, financial management, commerce, travel and logistics.

AI THAT CONNECTS TRANSACTIONS WITH OPERATIONS

PayToMe.co applies AI and intelligent automation to workflows that traditionally require multiple systems and manual processes.

The platform is designed to help software understand and coordinate:

Transaction information
Payment requests
Customer and business verification
Invoices and receivables
Destination and service requirements
Commerce and fulfillment activity
Financial and operational records

By connecting financial technology with business operations, PayToMe.co helps platforms build more complete customer experiences without independently developing every payment, compliance and workflow function.

SUPPORTING BUSINESSES AND DIGITAL PLATFORMS

PayToMe.co is designed for small and medium-sized businesses, software platforms, marketplaces and commerce operators seeking to integrate financial and operational capabilities.

Potential applications include:

Merchants collecting payments through text or payment links
Businesses automating invoices and receivables
Marketplaces verifying customers and vendors

Platforms embedding payment and compliance functionality
Commerce companies connecting checkout with fulfillment
Travel businesses coordinating bookings and payments
International companies managing cross-border transactions
Software providers integrating financial tools through APIs

The platform supports B2B, B2C and B2B2C business models across the United States and international markets.

BUILDING SUSTAINED MOMENTUM

The reported increase in estimated website traffic provides one indicator of rising digital attention. PayToMe.co is focused on converting that engagement into sustainable operating growth through:

Merchant adoption
Platform integrations
Increased product usage
Repeat customer activity
Strategic partnerships
International expansion
Payment and transaction growth
Enterprise relationships
Cross-platform commerce opportunities

Because third-party traffic estimates may fluctuate, PayToMe.co evaluates digital engagement together with customer activity, product adoption, partnerships and operating performance.

PARTNER WITH PAYTOME.CO

PayToMe.co welcomes discussions with merchants, software platforms, financial institutions, commerce companies, logistics providers, travel businesses and strategic partners.

Organizations can work with PayToMe.co across:

Embedded payments
Text-to-Pay and digital invoicing
KYC and KYB verification
