

New BroBoSEO Link Building Platform Empowers Users to Dominate SERPs

New monthly, yearly, and lifetime plans make Brobo SEO's automated site builder and 16-platform link building network accessible to all agencies.

PORT ST LUCIE, FL, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Brobo SEO today announced the launch of its comprehensive AI-driven website creation and automated link building platform. Designed to provide enterprise-grade infrastructure to SEO agencies and marketing consultants, the software automates the end-to-end process of generating diverse websites and executing multi-tier link building campaigns. The platform is now available through flexible monthly, yearly, and lifetime access plans.

The Brobo SEO platform features a fully automated AI website builder capable of constructing complete, multi-page websites from a standard business description in under a minute. To eliminate identifiable network footprints, the system automatically varies fonts, color palettes, layouts, and site structures from a pool of over 170,000 design combinations. Each site includes unique navigation, custom copy without templates, and automated schema markup to ensure individuality across the network.

Sites can be instantly published to Brobo's included secure hosting or deployed to user-owned environments.

Integrated directly with the site builder is a seven-step campaign manager that publishes uniquely generated articles across 16 established platforms, including WordPress, GitHub Pages, Dev.to, Ghost, and Mastodon. The system automatically structures a three-tier link pyramid, directing links naturally to inner pages and distributing anchor text across exact match, partial match, brand, and generic terms based on user-defined ratios.

Addressing industry-wide transparency challenges with link reporting, Brobo SEO includes live verification, ensuring that no link is reported as successful unless it is verified as actively published on the page. The reporting dashboard provides data on referring domains, live status per link, and clearly distinguishes between links that pass ranking value and those that carry a nofollow tag. Domain authority estimates are also provided for each platform.

Additionally, an integrated auto-blogging feature ensures that all generated sites continue to actively publish on automated schedules. This continuous background publishing presents the networks as active, lived-in websites rather than static properties. To maintain content quality, network-wide uniqueness tracking guarantees that sites built together never repeat headlines, topics, or business names.

"What traditionally takes an agency a week to manually coordinate can now be completed in roughly an hour," said Jason Michael Raffa, spokesperson for Brobo SEO. "Our platform brings enterprise-grade infrastructure—including multi-provider AI failover and stringent content quality controls—to agencies at an accessible entry point."

Brobo SEO plans start at $158 per month, with options for users to bring their own API keys for unlimited generation.
