

Industrial Applications, Inc. Introduces Secondary Containment Coating Services

TN, UNITED STATES, September 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Industrial Applications, Inc. is proud to announce the launch of their new service: Secondary Containment Coating Services. This service will provide industrial facilities in Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Texas with a crucial layer of protection to ensure the safety of employees, minimize environmental impact, and comply with regulatory requirements.

Our team has extensive experience in industrial coatings and is dedicated to providing top-quality services to ensure the safety and compliance of our clients' facilities"

Jay Thomason

Secondary containment systems are essential in industrial facilities, as they act as a secondary barrier to prevent hazardous materials from leaking into the environment. These systems are especially critical in industries such as oil and gas, chemical manufacturing, and transportation, where the risk of spills and leaks is high. With the introduction of Secondary Containment Coating Services, Industrial Applications, Inc. aims to help these industries maintain a safe and compliant work environment.

The new service will include the application of high-quality coatings that are specifically designed for secondary containment systems. These coatings are resistant to chemicals, abrasions, and extreme temperatures, ensuring long-lasting protection for industrial facilities. Additionally, Industrial Applications, Inc. will provide expert consultation and customized solutions to meet the unique needs of each facility. This will not only enhance the effectiveness of the secondary containment system but also help businesses save time and money in the long run.

"We are excited to offer Secondary Containment Coating Services to our clients in Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Texas," said Jay Thomason, CEO of Industrial Applications, Inc. "Our team has extensive experience in industrial coatings and is dedicated to providing top-quality services to ensure the safety and compliance of our clients' facilities. We believe that this new service will be a valuable addition to our existing range of industrial solutions."

With the launch of Secondary Containment Coating Services, Industrial Applications, Inc. reaffirms its commitment to providing innovative and reliable solutions to the industrial sector. The company looks forward to helping businesses in the region maintain a safe and compliant work environment through this new service.
