

BOSSDesk Introduces Project Management Capabilities to Help Teams Plan, Track, and Deliver Projects More Effectively

BOSSDesk adds Project Management capabilities for planning, task tracking, milestones, resource management, and progress visibility in one platform.

PEACHTREE CORNERS, GA, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New Project Management solution brings project initiation and planning, task management, milestones, resources, and progress visibility together in BOSSDesk

Project teams need visibility, accountability, and a clear understanding of the priorities based on the current state and what needs to happen next.”

Vishi Raghavan

BOSS Solutions today announced the release of a new Project Management add on, giving organizations a centralized way to plan, organize, track, and manage projects alongside their day-to-day work.

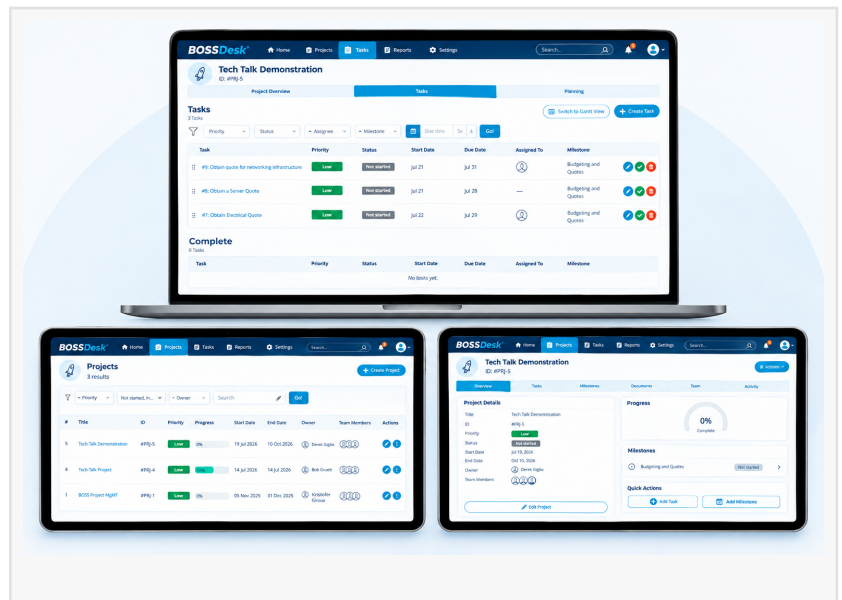

Teams can create and manage projects, assign tasks, set milestones, monitor progress, organize project work visually, and gain greater visibility into project activities—all within BOSSDesk.

As organizations manage increasingly complex initiatives, project information can become fragmented across spreadsheets, documents, email, and separate project management applications. BOSSDesk Project Management is designed to provide teams with a more connected workspace for managing projects and keeping stakeholders aligned without the need for dedicated project management software that costs tens of thousands of dollars.

A Centralized Workspace for Project Delivery

BOSSDesk Project Management platform for organizing projects, tasks, milestones, and resources

BOSSDesk Project Management provides teams with the tools they need to move projects from initiation to planning and execution to closure, including:

- Project and task management — Create projects, assign responsibilities, set priorities and deadlines, and track tasks through their lifecycle.
- Milestone tracking — Define key milestones and monitor important deliverables and deadlines.
- Visual Planning Board — Organize and track project work in a visual workspace to provide greater visibility into progress with intuitive Gantt charts.
- Progress and status visibility — Monitor project status, task completion, priorities, and ongoing activities from a centralized location.
- Resource and cost management — Track project members, budgets, and actual costs to support better project oversight.
- Project documentation — Keep project-related information and documents organized and accessible.
- Reporting and insights — Gain visibility into project performance and productivity to support informed decision-making.
- Notifications and updates — Stay informed about assignments, deadlines, and project changes.

Connecting Project Work with BOSSDesk

For organizations already using BOSSDesk®, the new capabilities offer an opportunity to bring project-related work into the same environment that manages their broader operational activities.

By keeping project information, tasks, milestones, responsibilities, and progress in one centralized platform, teams can spend less time switching between tools and more time focusing on delivering projects.

“Project teams need visibility, accountability, and a clear understanding of the priorities based on the current state and what needs to happen next,” said Vishi Raghavan. “With Project Management, BOSSDesk gives organizations a centralized workspace to organize project work, track progress, and keep teams aligned.”

Designed for Flexible Project Management

Whether managing an internal initiative, coordinating a cross-functional project, or overseeing a series of tasks and deliverables, teams can use BOSSDesk Project Management to structure their work around their own processes.

Organizations can create projects, define milestones, assign tasks to one or more team members, prioritize work, monitor completion, and use the Planning Board to visualize project activities.

The new capabilities are now available as part of the latest BOSSDesk® release.
