Glocusent Sound Machine Launch & Prime Big Deal Day

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, September 23, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- As the 2026 fall season settles in, home wellness enthusiasts are embracing cozy comfort — and Colorado-based brand Glocusent is rising to meet the moment. The company today announced the launch of three new products: the Glocusent Sunrise Alarm Clock N17 Deluxe, the Glocusent Sunrise Alarm Clock N19 Three-in-One, and the Baby Sound Machine N20 CrySense — designed for devoted cozy readers and parents seeking calmer baby bedtimes.

> We're not selling sleep gadgets — we're establishing one complete ritual."

Together, the trio forms a complete "Healthy Cycle" solution: a reading light for cozy night reading, a white noise machine for deep sleep, and a wake-up light for a gentle sunrise start — carrying users seamlessly from bedtime to morning.

The concept was born from founder Mason's independent research into future wellness trends, which identified sleep as the next health frontier. "We're not selling sleep gadgets — we're establishing one complete ritual," said Mason, founder of Glocusent.

A Celebration of Wellness and Innovation

This autumn marks more than a change of season — it signals brighter, warmer days ahead, and Glocusent's first taste of fall savings. As the brand continues to shape the future of lighting and sound, customers can now enjoy the season's first exclusive discounts across Glocusent's most-loved products.

Meanwhile, Amazon's Prime Big Deal Days returns October 6–7, kicking off the 2026 holiday shopping season with millions of deals and deep discounts. Glocusent is joining the event with exclusive offers for Prime members.
