ORLANDO, FL, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Cox Toolworks LLC today announced the launch of Halden Pro, a field service management platform built for independent contractors across 50+ trades. Halden Pro is available immediately at haldenpro.com with a 30-day free trial and no credit card required.

Halden Pro was built by Edmond Cox, a Florida contractor with 13 years of experience in renovation and landscaping. After years of managing jobs with spiral notebooks and disconnected tools, Cox set out to build the software he wished he'd had in the field.

"I lost jobs because I couldn't send a quote fast enough. I lost margin because I couldn't track what jobs actually cost me. Every tool I tried either charged per user, took a cut of my payments, or was built for enterprise companies that have nothing in common with how a small contractor actually works," said Edmond Cox, Founder and CEO of Cox Toolworks LLC. "Halden Pro is the platform I needed and never had."

Halden Pro includes GPS time tracking, AI-powered job estimating, invoicing, scheduling, a client portal, a dispatcher map, two-way SMS communication, lien waiver generation, and Notice to Owner documentation. All features are available on every plan with no per-user fees and no markup on Stripe payment processing.

Pricing is straightforward: Starter at $59 per month, Pro at $99 per month, and Team at $149 per month. Every plan includes unlimited crew members. Contractors pay Stripe's standard processing rate directly with zero platform markup — a direct contrast to competitors who charge both per-user fees and a percentage on top of payment processing.

"Jobber charges $199 per month just to access SMS. ServiceTitan starts at $398 per month and requires an annual contract. We built Halden Pro so a contractor with a crew of ten pays the same flat rate as a contractor working solo," said Bryce Cox, Chief Marketing Officer of Cox Toolworks LLC. "The contractor who responds first wins the job. Halden Pro is built around that reality."

Halden Pro is available at haldenpro.com. A 30-day free trial requires no credit card.
