EINPresswire.com/ -- Vox Nutrition, a premier private label supplement manufacturer, announced today a historic three-month operational performance, setting company records in production output across June, July, and August.

These results reflect our team's dedication.

Producing 332M+ capsules in three months shows our ability to deliver at scale without losing quality.”

Mark Bible, Vox Nutrition COO

During this period, the company's manufacturing and fulfillment facilities scaled operations to reach exceptional volume benchmarks, including:

332,794,291 Capsules Produced

5,663,150 Bottles Packaged

2,881,754 Custom Labels Produced

The record-setting numbers highlight Vox Nutrition's expanded production capacity and operational efficiency across its core service divisions. The surge in output reflects sustained demand in the health, wellness, and dietary supplement market, backed by synchronized execution across key departments, including Production, Quality Assurance, Warehouse Logistics, Maintenance, Shipping, and Sales.

"These results are a direct testament to the dedication, coordination, and relentless effort of our entire team," said Mark Bible, COO with Vox Nutrition. "Producing over 332 million capsules and 5.6 million finished bottles in a single three-month span demonstrates our ability to deliver large-scale contract manufacturing without compromising quality or speed. As we move into the final months of the year, we remain focused on maintaining this strong momentum for our brand partners."

Vox Nutrition plans to build on these production figures through continued investments in efficiencies, automated equipment, workforce expansion, and supply chain optimizations to support client growth through the final quarter of the year and into 2027.
