Inabnit Law Office Attorney Steps Away From Partnership to Represent Injured Montanans

Elijah L. Inabnit turned down a partnership track at a defense firm to represent plaintiffs in personal injury and medical malpractice cases.

MISSOULA, MT, UNITED STATES, September 24, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Elijah L. Inabnit, an attorney at Inabnit Law Office, PLLC in Missoula, has shifted his legal practice toward representing injured clients after years spent defending hospitals, doctors, negligent drivers, and trucking companies in medical malpractice and personal injury cases. In 2025, while under consideration for partnership at his former firm, Inabnit chose to represent plaintiffs in these cases instead. He now handles auto accident claims, commercial motor vehicle cases, medical malpractice matters, and construction defect disputes for clients throughout Montana.

> “Defending hospitals and trucking companies showed me how the other side evaluates a case. Now I use that experience to help injured Montanans pursue accountability," said Inabnit.”

Inabnit earned his law degree from the University of Montana School of Law in 2017 and clerked for two years under Dana L. Christensen, then-chief judge of the U.S. District Court for the District of Montana. He then spent several years as an associate at a Missoula defense firm, representing hospitals and doctors in medical malpractice cases, major trucking companies in accident litigation, and large corporations in civil disputes. That work included defending hospitals, doctors, negligent drivers, and trucking companies in medical malpractice and personal injury litigation.

Inabnit now applies that background on behalf of injured Montanans. At Inabnit Law Office, clients speak directly with an attorney when they call. The firm also maintains a family law practice, handled by attorney Rachel G. Inabnit.
