

Jae Lee Law Surpasses 330 Five-Star Reviews as Client Trust Continues to Grow

FORT LEE, NJ, UNITED STATES,

September 24, 2026 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Jae Lee Law, a personal injury law firm serving New Jersey and New York for nearly three decades, has reached 330 five-star reviews on Google. The milestone reflects a growing number of clients who say they found the firm through the experiences of others rather than through advertising. The firm serves people injured in car accidents, workplace incidents, and other personal injury matters.

A pattern of deliberate choice

Many clients say they arrived at that decision after weighing several options on their own, a pattern the firm's team sees often in its work as a Bergen County personal injury law firm.

"There are so many car accident lawyers in New Jersey that choosing one felt overwhelming," one reviewer wrote. "I wanted a law firm with a proven track record, one that would truly fight for me, and that's exactly what I found at Jae Lee Law."

Others come by way of a personal referral. "A friend referred me to Jae Lee Law," another client shared, describing the team as "warm, hospitable, knowledgeable and clear about what was going to happen" from the first conversation.

Several reviewers pointed out that the firm's reputation held up even against their own initial doubts. One wrote that they had passed the firm's billboards for years without giving them much thought, "but after going through the experience myself, I realized they weren't just typical lawyer ads trying to get people's attention. They truly stand behind what they do and genuinely take care of their clients."

Care that extends past the case itself

That same theme, care that goes beyond the legal work, comes up often in reviews left for the firm's Fort Lee personal injury practice. One client described the team's approach simply: "Attorney Lee is a true lawyer who treats clients not merely as clients, but like family." Reviewers frequently name specific staff members directly, a detail the firm says reflects how closely its team stays involved in each case from start to finish.

"Trusting your lawyer is really important to me, and I want our clients to know we are honest and transparent with them," said Attorney Jae E. Lee. Anyone in Bergen County or the surrounding area who has been injured in an accident and wants to talk through their options is welcome to reach out to Jae Lee Law for a free consultation.
