Navy SEAL Veteran Evan Shelline's VETTED Publishes Free Guides on VA-Paid Home Care for Veterans

Troy, Michigan veteran-owned company founded by former Navy SEAL Evan Shelline releases free guides to help families get VA-paid home care for aging veterans.

Evan Shelline, Navy SEAL veteran and founder and president of VETTED

TROY, MI, UNITED STATES, September 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- VETTED, a service-disabled veteran-owned small business founded by former U.S. Navy SEAL Evan Shelline, today released a free library of plain-language guides for families caring for aging veterans in metro Detroit. The guides explain how to get VA-paid home care, what it costs, and where to find help that VA doesn't cover.

Many families don't know that VA can pay a home care agency directly for help at home. Eligibility is based on need, not on a disability rating. The Dole Act, signed in January 2025, requires VA to offer Homemaker/Home Health Aide care and Veteran-Directed Care at every VA medical center by early 2027, so more families will be asking these questions.

> These guides give families the straight answers we wish every family had on day one."
>
> Evan Shelline, Founder & President, VETTED

"Most families we talk to didn't know the VA could pay for help at home until they were already worn out," said Evan Shelline, founder and president of VETTED. "These guides give them the straight answers we wish every family had on day one."

The guides, available at vettedvc.com/veteran-care, include:

- Does the VA pay for home care? A straight answer for families

- Aid and Attendance vs. VA home care, with 2026 rates from VA
- VA help for family caregivers: stipends, support and respite
- Home care for a veteran's spouse: what VA covers and where else to look
- In-home dementia care for veterans
- How to choose a home care agency, including questions to ask, since Michigan does not license non-medical home care
- What to expect in the first week of home care
- A family guide to home care for aging veterans

VETTED also published local resource pages for veterans in Troy, Detroit, Warren, Sterling Heights, Livonia and Dearborn. Each lists nearby VA facilities, Vet Centers, free benefits help and Area Agencies on Aging.

"Whether it's a veteran at home or a federal requirement, we hold ourselves to the same standard: tell people the truth, do the small things right, and take care of the person in front of you," Shelline said.

VETTED accepts VA Community Care referrals for Homemaker/Home Health Aide care and respite across Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties. Families can ask the veteran's VA social worker for VETTED by name or call 248-794-9292. VETTED is independent and is not affiliated with or endorsed by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs; VA alone decides eligibility and authorized hours.

About Evan Shelline
Evan Mark Shelline enlisted in the U.S. Navy after September 11, 2001, served about a decade, including about six years with the SEAL Teams, and later directed more than 60 maritime vessel protection operations without a security incident. He is the founder and president of VETTED and chairs the Veteran Advisory Committee at Lily Hospice. More at evanshelline.net.

About VETTED
VETTED (Vetted LLC) is an SBA-certified service-disabled veteran-owned small business headquartered in Troy, Michigan. It provides VA-authorized in-home care for veterans and serves federal agencies as a prime contractor, having performed prime awards for the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Army, the Navy and the Treasury. CAGE 9VKP5. vettedvc.com

Evan Shelline
VETTED
+1 2487949292
evan@vettedvc.com
Visit us on social media:
LinkedIn
Facebook
YouTube

This press release can be viewed online at: https://www.einpresswire.com/article/945177001

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.
© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.