

The Japanese Clothing Co Offers Japanese-Inspired T-Shirts Spanning Traditional Arts and Modern Subcultures

The UK-based brand designs men's and women's T-shirts across dozens of themed collections drawn from Japanese culture, produced entirely by hand.

NORTH ENGLAND, UNITED KINGDOM,

EINPresswire.com/ -- The Japanese Clothing Co is a UK-based clothing brand specialising in Japanese-inspired T-shirts for men and women. Its range draws on a broad mix of Japanese cultural sources, from traditional art forms to contemporary street style, across a large selection of themed collections.

The brand's japanese clothing fashion is organised into more than two dozen themed categories for each of its men's and women's lines. Designs reference traditional subjects such as samurai, bushido, geisha, koi fish, dragons and temples, alongside motifs from Japanese folklore including yokai, kitsune foxes and the maneki neko, or lucky cat. Its collection of traditional japanese clothing men sits beside categories covering kawaii, ramen, vaporwave and vintage styles.

Design inspiration is drawn from a range of Japanese subcultures and traditions, from Harajuku street fashion to manga and anime, as well as traditional Japanese arts such as Nihonga painting and Shodo calligraphy.

The brand works exclusively with a group of artists who produce every design by hand, using a combination of digital and analogue tools. No AI is used in the creation of its designs.

All products are made to order to reduce waste, and each item passes a three-stage quality assessment carried out by a person before dispatch. The brand selects heavyweight fabrics and materials intended to last, and states that it conducts durability testing on every new product before it is listed. It works with suppliers whose materials are designed to retain print vibrancy and fabric softness through repeated washing.

The Japanese Clothing Co serves customers in the United Kingdom, the United States and Europe. As noted on its about us page, the company states that it plans to add further product lines in the future.
