The conference reflects the direction of NVBDC 3.0, which is focused on moving Veteran-Owned Businesses beyond certification and toward business readiness, procurement readiness, stronger connections and measurable growth. NVBDC’s mission is to certify, prepare, connect and accelerate veteran businesses so they can compete and deliver value in the marketplace.

“Mission: POSSIBLE is about turning certification into opportunity,” said Elaine M. Taylor, Executive Director of NVBDC. “By bringing veteran entrepreneurs together with corporate procurement leaders, government organizations and resource partners, we are creating the connections that can lead to real business growth.”

Mission: POSSIBLE will feature 1:1 corporate matchmaking, supplier-readiness programming, networking, breakout sessions, business development opportunities and the Veteran Marketplace.

“This conference brings the entire ecosystem together,” said Jim Cowper, Chair of the NVBDC Board of Directors. “Veteran-Owned Businesses will have direct access to corporations, government organizations and resources that can help them build relationships and pursue new opportunities.”

PuroClean, through its PuroVet program, will serve as Presenting Sponsor of the 2026 conference.
