The move comes as the UAE continues to strengthen the participation of Emirati talent across the private sector, with national workforce development remaining a key priority for the UAE Government.

As part of its outreach to Emirati candidates, Mal will host an Open House on Monday, 19 October 2026 at 6:30 PM at its Abu Dhabi office in Sky Tower, Al Reem Island.

The event will give candidates an opportunity to meet the team behind Mal, learn more about what Mal is building, discover what it is like to be part of a fast-growing technology entity, and explore available career opportunities.

Abdallah Abu-Sheikh, Founder and CEO of Mal, said: “Mal is being built from Abu Dhabi with the ambition to serve the world, and Emirati talent should be part of that journey. We want to create meaningful opportunities for UAE Nationals to bring their expertise, ambition and perspective to what we are building, while growing alongside a company with global aspirations.”

Mal is building a new generation of financial services by combining the principles of Islamic finance with AI-native technology. AI is embedded into Mal’s core architecture from the outset, rather than added as a feature later, supporting the company’s ambition to create a simpler and more connected financial experience.

Current opportunities for UAE Nationals are available through https://careers.mal.ai/.

It is also worth noting that Mal recently opened its global waitlist, just three months after receiving its In-Principal Approval (IPA) from the Central Bank of the UAE.

Customers can join the waitlist to secure priority access to Mal’s first product releases, along with exclusive rewards and early access to new products and features as they become available.
