Cantor's Driving School Is Now the Largest Driving School in Nevada

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, September 28, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Cantor's Driving School has announced a major expansion of its Nevada operation, cementing its position as the largest driving school in the state and involved in the local community. The school serves Clark County, including Las Vegas, Henderson, North Las Vegas, Boulder City, Spring Valley, Paradise, and Summerlin.

With a fleet of 12 dual-controlled Toyota Corollas and a team of 12 certified instructors, Cantor's is equipped to serve more Nevada students than any other driving school in the region.

Every vehicle in the fleet is a late model Toyota Corolla outfitted with an instructor brake and mirror. All cars are clearly marked as driver training vehicles, so students, parents, and the public know exactly what they are seeing on the road.

The instructor team includes both male and female instructors, giving students and families the ability to choose who they are most comfortable learning with. Every instructor is licensed and certified by the Nevada DMV, and most instructors are former first responders, bringing a level of real-world experience to the car that no other school offers.

Cantor's Nevada operation also holds two distinctions no other driving school in the state can claim. It is the only AAA approved driving school in all of Nevada, and it is the only driving school in the state where every instructor is certified in teaching students with ADHD. For families who have struggled to find a school equipped to work with neurodiverse learners, Cantor's fills a gap that has long existed in Nevada driver education.

Cantor's Driving School Nevada

"We have worked hard to build something in Nevada that our students and their families can truly count on," said Frank Cantor, owner of Cantor's Driving School. "Being the largest school in the state is something we are proud of, but what matters most to us is that every student, regardless of how they learn, gets the same quality instruction and the same attention. That is what we are committed to."

Cantor's was founded in Philadelphia in 1976 by Allan Cantor and is now run by his son Frank and daughter-in-law Cheri. The school operates across Pennsylvania, Florida, Nevada, and Arizona and holds an A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau.
