RPM AutoWorx Adds Technician and Expands Repair Services in McKeesport

Local auto repair shop restores engine and transmission repair services for Mon Valley drivers.

MCKEESPORT, PA, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- RPM AutoWorx has added a GM-certified technician at its McKeesport auto repair shop to support engine and transmission repair services.

The addition allows RPM AutoWorx to restore services it had not consistently offered in recent years. Expanded capabilities include selected check-engine diagnostics, timing belt and timing chain replacements, transmission diagnostics, and transmission repairs and replacements.

"Adding another technician lets us take on work we weren't consistently equipped to handle before," RPM AutoWorx owner Justin Barna said. "We're still going to be honest about our limits. If an outside specialist is the better choice for the customer, that's what we'll tell them."

The expanded services complement the shop's existing work, including Pennsylvania State safety inspections and emissions testing, brakes, tires, suspension and steering, exhaust repairs, oil changes, fluid services, heating and cooling repairs, electrical repairs, and maintenance for personal and light work vehicles.

Identifying Problems During Regular Service

RPM AutoWorx also includes a complimentary vehicle health check with every paid service. The check is intended to identify observable safety, maintenance and reliability concerns while the vehicle is already at the shop.

Technicians check for visible or noticeable concerns involving tires, brakes, fluids, lights, suspension, steering, exhaust, wipers, and leaks. Customers are then told what may require immediate attention, what should be planned for later, and what can simply be monitored before their next vehicle service.

National roadside-assistance figures provide additional context for the shop's focus on preventative maintenance. AAA reported responding to more than 27 million roadside-service calls in 2024, including approximately 13 million towing events and 7 million battery-related calls. The organization recommends regular inspections and maintenance to help motorists avoid unexpected breakdowns. Source: AAA Newsroom

"Our goal is to give people useful information before a visible concern turns into a problem," Barna said.

Customers can schedule by phone, text, or through an online booking system. RPM AutoWorx also offers appointment reminders and secure after-hours key drop-off for customers who cannot bring their vehicles in during regular business hours.
