

AVC places No. 324 on The Globe and Mail's eighth annual ranking of Canada's Top Growing Companies.

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA,
September 29, 2026 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- AVC is pleased to announce it has ranked No. 324 on the 2026 Report on Business magazine's ranking of Canada's Top Growing Companies.

Canada's Top Growing Companies ranks Canadian companies on three-year revenue growth. AVC earned its spot with three-year growth of 62%, marking the agency's fourth consecutive year on the list.

A nationwide study conducted by AVC and Ipsos found that 51% of Canadians do not feel represented in advertising. AVC's latest research, based on responses from more than 2,000 consumers across five multicultural communities, further shows that culture continues to shape how people connect, consume and choose.

Our growth into one of Canada's top companies proves that culturally grounded marketing is more than an inclusion strategy. It is a competitive advantage.”

Joycelyn David, CEO of AVC.

“Brands are not just missing the mark, they are missing the market,” said Joycelyn David, CEO of AVC. “Our growth into one of Canada's top companies proves that culturally grounded marketing is more than an inclusion strategy. It is a competitive advantage.”

The recognition comes during another milestone year for AVC. In June, RAD Intel acquired a majority stake in the agency, supporting AVC's continued growth and the expansion of its multicultural marketing capabilities.

“Making this list once is an achievement. Doing it four years in a row says something much bigger about the business,” said Jeremy Barnett, CEO and co-founder of RAD Intel. “Joycelyn and the full AVC team have built a company that knows how to grow consistently, and that track record is exactly what got our attention. We invested because we believe there's a lot more ahead."

Fueling Innovation in Canada

Canada's Top Growing Companies is an editorial ranking that launched in 2019 to celebrate the achievements of innovative businesses in Canada. To qualify for this program, companies voluntarily completed an in-depth application process and fulfilled targeted revenue requirements. In total, 376 companies earned a spot on this year's ranking.

The full list of 2026 winners, along with editorial coverage, is published in the October issue of Report on Business magazine. The list is also published online here:

"Our annual ranking of Canada's Top Growing Companies celebrates the innovation, ambition and resilience of businesses across the country, and we're always excited to share as many of these standout stories as we can — including insight from the entrepreneurs themselves on how other companies can succeed, too," said Dawn Calleja, editor of Report on Business magazine.

"The Globe and Mail congratulates the winners of Canada's Top Growing Companies 2026 on this exceptional achievement," said Andrew Saunders, president and CEO of The Globe and Mail.

"Each of these organizations has shown an extraordinary ability to adapt, innovate and grow amid ongoing change. Their achievements reflect the ingenuity and determination of Canadian entrepreneurs and business leaders who are helping shape the future of our economy."
