

CENTURY 21 Anew Realty Welcomes Jagmeet S. Raju to Silicon Valley Team

With 15+ years in property management, portfolio operations and technology, Jagmeet brings an owner's perspective to Silicon Valley real estate.

CA, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CENTURY 21 Anew Realty has welcomed Jagmeet S. Raju to its growing team of real estate professionals in Silicon Valley.

Jagmeet comes to residential real estate with more than 15 years of experience in property management, portfolio operations and technology. His previous work managing residential properties gave him firsthand experience with the day-to-day responsibilities that come with owning real estate, from working with tenants and vendors to overseeing maintenance, renovations and property improvements.

That experience is now shaping his approach as a real estate agent.

Rather than viewing a property simply as a place to buy or sell, Jagmeet brings an ownership perspective to his work with clients. His background has given him experience evaluating property conditions, managing operating expenses, coordinating improvements and working through the practical challenges that come with maintaining real estate.

Before moving into the real estate industry, Jagmeet worked in the technology field, including roles with Infogain and Cisco. His technology background has also influenced the way he approaches his work, with an emphasis on organization, systems and careful attention to detail.

"Real estate is a major decision for most people," Jagmeet said. "I want my clients to understand the property they are buying or selling and feel comfortable with the decisions they are making throughout the process."

At CENTURY 21 Anew Realty, Jagmeet will work with buyers, sellers and property investors throughout Saratoga, Los Gatos, Almaden Valley, Willow Glen, Cambrian and the surrounding Bay Area.

Broker-owner Karen Xu said Jagmeet's experience in both property management and technology brings a unique perspective to the brokerage.

"Jagmeet understands what happens after the transaction," Xu said. "His experience managing properties and working with owners, tenants and vendors gives him a practical understanding of real estate that will be valuable to his clients."

Jagmeet holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of California, Riverside, and a California real estate salesperson license (#02373312). He also speaks Punjabi and Hindi.

His move into residential sales marks the next step in a career that has consistently centered around property, business operations and helping owners manage their investments.
