Smith Will Exhibit at the 2026 New York Solar + Storage Summit, Booth 20

The company will highlight how it supports the solar industry with diverse supply chain solutions and flexible financing options

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, September 30, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Smith, a leading supply chain expert and solar-equipment distributor, today announces its upcoming showcase at the 2026 New York Solar + Storage Summit in Albany, New York. Hosted by the New York Solar Energy Industries Association (NYSEIA), the event will take place at the Albany Capital Center from Tuesday, October 13, through Wednesday, October 14. This is Smith's first time exhibiting at the show.

> Smith's dedication to supporting our customers underpins our drive to serve the solar industry and support a future built on sustainable energy."
> Adam Jordan, Vice President of Solar Services at Smith

The solar landscape has expanded in recent years, with dispatchable battery energy storage systems (BESS) and distributed energy resources (DERs) growing in usage. As electricity demand rises across New York, this conference brings together leaders in the solar industry each year to discuss unique and innovative solutions for delivering clean energy.

Backed by the company's Intelligent Distribution™ model, Smith's solar team leverages its decades of supply chain experience and logistical expertise to deliver the right equipment at the right price. Its comprehensive services and solutions help customers across the solar industry address market constraints and mitigate risks to keep their builds compliant and on budget. With the marketplace facing rapid shifts amid changing regulations, Smith continues to provide stability and security for projects of all sizes and requirements.

"Smith's dedication to supporting our customers underpins our drive to serve the solar industry and support a future built on sustainable energy," said Adam Jordan, Smith's Vice President of Solar Services. “Our team of market experts provides an unsurpassed level of logistical, technical, and financial support, allowing you to move forward with confidence. We look forward to discussing how our innovative solutions can help our partners address the critical issues affecting our industry.”
