MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, October 2, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Culinary Innovation wins the day and food service operators can now be more environmentally responsible enabling them to Fry Food Faster, Using Less Energy and less cooking oil.

This is exactly what the Oil Chef solution brings to deep frying operations, backed by science, proven by clients and confirmed by industry leading experts.

All of these reasons are why Oil Chef won the most prestigious Food Service Industry Award in London at the Restaurant & Takeaway Innovation Expo at the London Excel. Oil Chef is an industry disruptor and now crowned as the Best Restaurant Solution for the Food Service Industry.

Oil Chef CEO Sean Patrick Farry recently went into the details of how it became an accidental discovery during a recent podcast on the Kitchen Curiosity Channel with Host Radford Chancellor.

The new Oil Chef technology works at a molecular level to delay the breakdown process of oil, through reduced oxidation and keeping the oil in a more stable and less viscous state.

Some QSR operators can reduce 4 minutes cook time with fresh hand breaded or battered raw bone in chicken products by 4 minutes without increasing frying temperature is extraordinary to say the least. This reduced the carbon footprint.

Eco Friendly Chef Corp. was founded by Sean Farry and Patricia Griffin in 2013 and have launched many successful brands around the world.

Never again with the frying industry be the same again after Eco Friendly Chef Corp. launched their latest OiL Chef devices into the marketplace. #oilchef
