

Copper Sun at Resorts World Las Vegas Celebrates First Anniversary with Inner Mongolian Hot Pot Tasting Menu

Menu features premium cuts, fresh hand-pulled noodles and an optional A5 wagyu upgrade, available nightly throughout October

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, October 2, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Every pot at Copper Sun starts with bone marrow broth simmered for eight hours from a recipe that traces back 30 years to Baotou, Inner Mongolia.

Throughout October, that broth is the centerpiece of a special Hot Pot Tasting Menu at the Resorts World Las Vegas restaurant, created to celebrate Copper Sun's first anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 4.

Copper Sun at Resorts World celebrates one year anniversary

Guests start by choosing one of four broths: classic, spicy, golden cabbage or tomato. From there, the full spread arrives at the table, with meats sliced to order, seafood, vegetables and fresh hand-pulled noodles for guests to cook at their own pace. Dessert follows at the end of the meal.

We are so grateful to everyone who has gathered around our tables this first year. This menu is our way of inviting new and returning guests to sit down and celebrate with us.”

Luqi Xu, General Manager of Copper Sun

Lamb is a traditional staple of Inner Mongolian hot pot, and the tasting menu features premium cuts, including lamb shoulder, Australian bolar blade and ribeye. For an even more indulgent experience, guests can add a wagyu upgrade with Japanese A5.

Copper Sun was featured in Forbes and named one of Eater Vegas' most anticipated openings before it debuted in The District at Resorts World Las Vegas in October 2025. In its first year, the restaurant has introduced Strip diners to Inner Mongolian hot pot, with non-additive handcrafted cocktails and a curated wine selection.

"We are so grateful to everyone who has gathered around our tables this first year," said Luqi Xu, General Manager of Copper Sun. "Hot pot is meant to be shared, and this menu is our way of inviting new and returning guests to sit down and celebrate with us."
