

Equipo Health Featured in 2026 KLAS Emerging Company Spotlight

Equipo Health earns a 97.2/100 overall performance score in the 2026 KLAS Emerging Company Spotlight, based on feedback from 9 healthcare organizations.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, NJ, UNITED STATES, October 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Equipo Health has been featured in a 2026 KLAS Emerging Company Spotlight, a report that examines customer experiences with the company's centralized care management and referral platform with customizable workflow automation.

The report includes feedback from 9 individuals representing 9 organizations across the US and globally. Customers shared their experiences with Equipo Health's platform, including its capabilities, support, partnership, innovation, value, and integration.

Based on the KLAS evaluation, Equipo Health received a 97.2 overall performance score* on a 100-point scale with n=9. The report also includes customer ratings across multiple indicators, with A+* ratings reported for development and innovation, likelihood to recommend, money's worth, partnership, and support.

The report describes Equipo Health as a care management platform that helps organizations centralize patient interactions, streamline referrals, support EHR integration, and manage complex patient populations. Customers highlighted Equipo Health as a platform where patient interactions and care delivery information can be maintained in one place, giving teams visibility into the populations they manage.

"We are pleased to be featured in the KLAS Emerging Company Spotlight and to have our customers' experiences represented in the report," said Parijat Bhattacharjee, Founder and CEO of Equipo Health. "Our work is centered on helping healthcare organizations connect people, processes and technology so care can be delivered more effectively. Customer feedback is the most critical part of how we continue to evolve our platform and support the organizations we serve." Customers identified willingness to customize, sandbox and pilot options, cost-effectiveness, workflow improvement support, and a flexible, collaborative approach among the reasons they selected Equipo Health. The report also highlights customer feedback on Equipo Health's responsive support, consistent pricing, and continuous innovation. The KLAS report examines Equipo Health's capabilities across care coordination, referral management, patient engagement, call management, performance insights, and EHR integration.
