I'm honored to have the opportunity to serve as President of Peachtree Pest Control and continue working alongside such an incredible team.”

Shelby Pattison, President of Peachtree Pest Control

leading provider of residential and commercial pest management services throughout Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, announced the promotion of Shelby Pattison to President.

A respected leader with more than two decades of industry experience, Pattison has played a pivotal role in Peachtree's growth and success. Her promotion reflects the company's commitment to developing exceptional talent, strengthening operations, and delivering industry-leading service to customers across the Southeast.

In her new role, Pattison will oversee Peachtree's continued strategic growth, operational performance, employee development, and customer experience initiatives. She will focus on further enhancing service excellence while supporting the company's long-term vision for innovation and sustainable growth.

"Shelby has been instrumental in the success of our organization and has consistently demonstrated an unwavering commitment to our employees, customers, and company values," said Bryan Cummings, Chief Operating Officer of Anticimex North America. "Her promotion reflects both her exceptional leadership and the tremendous impact she has had throughout her career. I am confident that Shelby will continue to strengthen our business, inspire our teams, and lead Peachtree Pest Control into an exciting new chapter of growth and success."

Shelby Pattison: A Proven Leader Built from Within

Pattison's career is a testament to Peachtree's commitment to developing talent from within. She began her journey with Advanced Services in 2008 as a Customer Service Representative, where her dedication, work ethic, and leadership potential quickly set her apart.

Following the acquisition of Advanced Services by Peachtree Pest Control in 2021, Pattison continued to advance through a variety of key leadership positions. Throughout her career, she has gained extensive experience across business operations, developing a deep understanding of the people, processes, and culture that drive organizational success.

Most recently serving as Vice President of Business Operations, Pattison has been instrumental in strengthening operational performance, enhancing employee engagement, and fostering a collaborative, team-first culture. Her leadership has contributed to improved employee retention, exceptional service delivery, and stronger customer relationships throughout the organization.

In recognition of her contributions to the pest management industry, Pattison received the National Pest Management Association's Impact Award in 2022, an honor recognizing influential women who are helping shape the future of the profession.

Known for her people-centered leadership approach, Pattison believes that trust, accountability, and empowerment are the foundation of high-performing teams. She is passionate about supporting employees, strengthening organizational culture, and ensuring every team member has the resources needed to succeed.

"I'm honored to have the opportunity to serve as President of Peachtree Pest Control and continue working alongside such an incredible team," said Pattison. "Our people are the foundation of everything we do, and I remain committed to supporting their success while prioritizing the health and safety of our employees, customers, and communities. As we look to the future, we will continue delivering exceptional service, strengthening lasting customer relationships, and building on the culture of excellence that has defined Peachtree for generations."
