Join the City of Atlanta and Invest Atlanta for an October 8 Virtual Community Meeting on Redevelopment Plans

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, October 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The City of Atlanta and Invest Atlanta are inviting people who live, work, own a business or property, or otherwise have a general interest in seven Tax Allocation District (TAD) communities to participate in an October 8 virtual meeting and help shape the updates to the districts' Redevelopment Plans. These plans will help guide future investment and development within each TAD.

"The people who know these neighborhoods best should help shape what comes next," said Atlanta Mayor Andre Dickens, who also serves as Board Chair of Invest Atlanta. "These TAD plans will help guide future investment across seven communities, so we want residents, business owners and other stakeholders at the table early, asking questions and telling us what their neighborhoods need. Good planning starts with listening, and that is exactly what this process is designed to do."
