

Right To Bear Announces Lifetime Membership Discount for Faith Leaders Committed to Protecting Their Communities

50% lifetime discount on annual membership for pastors, faith leaders, and leaders of faith-based schools who establish and maintain a security team or ministry

COLUMBIA, SC, UNITED STATES, October 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Right To Bear, a self-defense legal protection membership association, today announced a 50% lifetime discount on its annual membership rate for pastors, faith leaders, and leaders of faith-based schools who commit to establishing and maintaining a security team or ministry.

To qualify, the house of worship or school must have at least two people committed to serving in a security capacity each week. The discount continues for as long as the membership remains active.

The initiative reflects Right To Bear's long-standing commitment to houses of worship and faith-based schools across the United States. It is designed to encourage leaders who have been hesitant to take the next step: building a security plan, identifying people willing to serve, and training them.

"Protecting houses of worship has always been a key part of our mission," said Frank Cannon, president of Right To Bear. "Whether a congregation has thousands of members or fewer than 100, the responsibility is the same. People deserve to worship, learn, and gather in a place where security has been thoughtfully considered. If you choose to stand watch over your flock, Right To Bear is prepared to stand with you."

In many congregations, protection comes not from a professional security officer but from a pastor, volunteer, or member who has stepped forward to serve. Right To Bear's goal is to make it easier for those leaders and their teams to have access to self-defense protection, legal resources, training, and support.

Right To Bear is recommended to those serving in church and ministry security roles by organizations including Protect This House, Christian Warrior, Faith Based Security Network, Strategos, and Able Shepard.

"We seek to serve others in a manner consistent with the example of Christ: humbly, faithfully, and with genuine concern for the people around us,” Cannon added. “We pray this commitment will be a blessing to every person willing to step forward and help protect their community.”
