

Clear Dental Billing Named a Stedi Platform Partner

The Nashville billing company connects directly to Stedi's clearinghouse to check insurance eligibility for the dental practices and DSOs it serves.

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, October 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Clear Dental Billing, an outsourced billing company for independent dental practices and dental service organizations (DSOs), has been named a Platform Partner by Stedi, the API-first healthcare clearinghouse. Stedi announced the partnership on October 7.

As a Platform Partner, Clear Dental Billing connects directly to Stedi's clearinghouse instead of routing every eligibility request through a payer portal or phone call. Clear's billers use those results to verify patient insurance before appointments, which cuts down on denied claims and surprise patient balances.

Our billers should spend their time on the claims and denials that actually need a person, not on hold with a payer.”

Matt Butlin, Founder, Clear Dental Billing

Insurance verification is one of the most time-consuming jobs in a dental office. Front desk staff often spend hours each day on payer portals and phone calls confirming coverage, frequencies, and remaining benefits. When that work gets skipped or rushed, claims come back denied and patients get bills they didn't expect.

Clear Dental Billing takes that work off the practice's plate. Its US-based billers handle insurance verification, claims submission, payment posting, denial management, and patient statements. They work inside each practice's existing practice management system, including Open Dental, Dentrix, Eaglesoft, Oryx, and Greyfinch. Clear also cleans up aging accounts receivable, including claims and patient balances past 90 and 120 days.

"Our billers should spend their time on the claims and denials that actually need a person, not on hold with a payer," said Matt Butlin, Founder of Clear Dental Billing. "Stedi lets us run eligibility checks electronically for most payers, and their support team has been fast and easy to work with. That speed gets passed straight to the offices we work for."

Practices and DSOs can submit an intake form at cleardentalbilling.com.
