Coming from a strong background in television news, Shaun has contributed reports to "NBC Nightly News," "Today," MSNBC and CNN. She won the respect and admiration of millions of daily television viewers throughout her career, including hosting "Access Hollywood". For sixteen

About Musical Guest Annie Bosko

Annie Bosko is a singer-songwriter whose voice beams like a ray of California sunshine. Her sound epitomizes California Cowgirl with music that blends ranch traditions with So-Cal coastal aesthetics. Annie Bosko is a California-born country artist whose powerhouse vocals, magnetic live presence and unmistakable West Coast spirit have taken her from a farmer's daughter to some of music's biggest stages.

Set to join the dearly departed Dolly Parton in September 2027, during Dolly: Live in Las Vegas at The Colosseum at Caesars Palace, Annie joins The WIN Awards to headline its Dolly Parton musical homage. Rolling Stone dubbed her Artist to Watch. She continues to collaborate with musical legends like Willie Nelson, Dolly Parton and Adele gracing stages from the Grand Ole Opry and Ryman Auditorium to Stagecoach, Rodeo Houston, CMA Fest, C2C: Country to Country, Tortuga, Faster Horses and Watershed Festival.

Her unmistakable voice has become equally familiar to sports audiences. Bosko has performed the National Anthem at major NFL, NBA, MLB, NASCAR and PBR events, including at Madison Square Garden and delivered a nationally televised performance on ESPN's Monday Night Football. Her partnership with Ariat International has further brought the worlds of country music and sports together, including a campaign alongside San Francisco 49ers quarterback Brock Purdy featuring her song "Honky Tonk Heartbeat."

Before California Cowgirl, Bosko's self-titled EP introduced her to country radio with her first charting single, "Neon Baby," which she performed during her late-night television debut on Jimmy Kimmel Live! Since then, multiple singles have broken into the Top 50 at country radio, while her dynamic live show continues to win over audiences across the country and beyond. From the California farmland where she was raised to the Opry stage, NFL stadiums and arenas around the world, Bosko carries with her the same combination of grit, glamour and authenticity.
