Key Factors Fueling Growth in Niche Premium Tourism and Experiential Travel

One of the primary drivers behind the market's growth is the expanding population of High Net Worth Individuals (HNWI), defined as those possessing liquid financial assets typically over $1 million excluding their main residence. The number of HNWIs is increasing due to strong equity market performance and ongoing economic growth in developed countries, which enhances asset values and boosts investable wealth among affluent groups. This demographic shift is directly linked to rising demand for exclusive, high-end travel experiences such as private retreats, bespoke cultural journeys, and fully customized itineraries.

For instance, data from March 2025 by World Population Review highlights that the number of millionaires worldwide reached 21.95 million in 2023 and is expected to grow to about 25.33 million by 2028. This steady growth in wealthy individuals is a significant factor propelling the niche premium tourism and experiential travel market forward, as these travelers allocate more discretionary spending toward rare and personalized travel opportunities.
