

Aery Aviation Expands Charter and Aircraft Management Operations in South Florida

Vision Jet and Gulfstream G200 expand Aery's charter presence in South Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, UNITED STATES, October 19, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aery Aviation is expanding its charter and aircraft management operations into South Florida, with a Cirrus Vision Jet and Gulfstream G200 joining the company's fleet at Fontainebleau Aviation at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport (FLL).

Fort Lauderdale gives us a great opportunity to expand our charter and aircraft management business in South Florida,”

Scott Beale

The new base expands Aery's access to customers throughout South Florida, including Fort Lauderdale, Miami, and surrounding communities, while establishing a foundation for continued growth in the region.

The Vision Jet is available for charter now, with the Gulfstream G200 expected to enter service in late November following new exterior paint and a comprehensive interior refurbishment.

In addition to charter services, Aery will offer aircraft management services to owners seeking professional support for their aircraft operations.

“Fort Lauderdale gives us a great opportunity to expand our charter and aircraft management business in South Florida,” said Scott Beale, President of Aery Aviation. “With the Vision Jet already available and the G200 coming online soon, we’re building a strong foundation to serve customers throughout the region.”

Aery currently holds ARGUS Gold status and has completed its ARGUS Platinum audit, with Platinum status expected soon. This milestone reflects the company's continued commitment to operational standards and safety as it expands into new markets.

To introduce its Fort Lauderdale operation, Aery is offering introductory incentives for eligible first bookings confirmed by December 31, 2026. Charter brokers and aircraft operators are invited to contact Aery's charter team for aircraft availability, quotations and offer details.

As Aery expands its Fort Lauderdale operations, the company is hiring for new positions to support its growth. Visit the careers page on Aery's website to view current openings and apply.
