The giveaway is open to everyone in the community and will be drive-through only. Registration is required through the event's Eventbrite page. Registration does not guarantee a turkey, so those who plan on attending are encouraged to arrive early. There is a limit of one turkey per family, and turkeys will be available while supplies last.

"Thanksgiving should be a time for families to come together, and we want to help make that celebration a little brighter for our neighbors," said Attorney Keith Ligori. "We're grateful for the community that has supported our firm, and this annual giveaway is one way we can return that support. Being there to greet families and hand out turkeys makes this a particularly meaningful tradition for us."

The event is sponsored by the Keith & Georgeann Ligori Family Foundation, Clear Channel, Bloomingdale Chiropractic and Universal Spine & Joint Specialists. Festivities will include the Tampa Bay area sports mascots, USF cheerleaders and holiday music provided by DJ Jimi-O with Street Laced Marketing. Keith Ligori and his team will be distributing turkeys to families in the drive-through line.

The annual giveaway is part of the firm's ongoing commitment to supporting the Tampa Bay community. Keith Ligori will be available for media interviews before and during the event.
