Yuran, who serves as head of school at Oak Mountain Academy in Carrollton, is also scheduled to participate in the Southern Association of Independent Schools' TransformEd Conference in Atlanta in February. His schedule includes additional appearances in Singapore, Barcelona and New York.

With more than 25 years of experience in education and organizational leadership, Yuran has worked with schools and organizations on strategic planning and educational development. He is also the founder of PJY Consulting and creator of the Mova Discovery Experience, a skills-based instructional model that encourages students to take an active role in their learning.

“Throughout my career, I've seen how much we can learn from sharing our experiences and ideas,” said Yuran. “I'm looking forward to bringing my own perspective and expertise to these conversations, both here in Georgia and internationally.”

Yuran's upcoming conference and event schedule includes:

- Nov. 11-15, 2026: Cognia Conference, Atlanta, Georgia
- Nov. 29-Dec. 6, 2026: Education 2.0 Conference, Singapore

- Jan. 16-23, 2027: Conference and Book Experience Tour, Barcelona, Spain
- Jan. 31-Feb. 5, 2027: CASE Conference, New York
- Feb. 9-12, 2027: SAIS Conference, Atlanta, Georgia
- Feb. 19-28, 2027: Innovative Conference, New York

In addition to his education work, Yuran is the author of "Holding On & Letting Go: A Story of Love, Life, & Loss," a memoir about his family's experience following his wife Marie's diagnosis of metastatic breast cancer. His upcoming Barcelona itinerary includes a conference and book experience tour.
